

“He called out to them, “Friends, haven’t you any fish?”

“No,” they answered.

“Simon son of John, do you love me?”

(John 21.5+17)

Our Scripture passage this Sunday (John Chapter 21) is so typical Jesus in that Jesus provides everything we need, brings us in close to intimacy with Him, only then to conform us to be more like Himself! This is one of my favorite Scripture passages. After all it has boating, cooking over a campfire, breakfast on the beach, and the Resurrected Jesus. Does it get any better than that? Perhaps for Peter, while living this story, it was not the best but very uncomfortable. You see Jesus is confronting Peter, restoring Peter, and empowering Peter all within the same situation. Interestingly enough that is often how Jesus interacts with us. I look forward to worshiping with you this Sunday.
